

Dual Diagnosis Professional Conference Series:

Ensuring Responsive Support Options for Persons with Intellectual and Other Developmental Disabilities and Problematic Sexual Behaviors

What is the Dual Diagnosis Professional Conference Series?

The Department of Human Services' Office of Developmental Programs (ODP) and the Office of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services (OMHSAS) are pleased to announce the Dual Diagnosis Professional Conference Series, which offers presentations focused on supporting individuals with intellectual disabilities and autism (ID/A) and mental health needs. The selected presenters share their expertise on best and promising practices as well as provide general knowledge. Session topics, which focus on increasing capacity to serve individuals with dual diagnosis in the community, are chosen based on identified needs and with input from the field of professional stakeholders.

- Invited audience of all professional stakeholders, including direct and clinical supporters for individuals with ID/A are encouraged to attend.
- Registration is required and at no charge to attendees.
- Four (4) hours of training credit and a certificate of achievement is provided.

Ensuring Responsive Case Management Options for Persons with Intellectual and Other Developmental Disabilities and Problematic Sexual Behaviors

May 11, 2022, 9:00 AM – 1:00 PM

Session Description: While advances have continued in the assessment, treatment, and risk management of neurotypical persons with sexual behavior problems, responsive services for persons with intellectual and other developmental disabilities have lagged behind. In this interactive workshop, we will focus on methods to ensure that individuals with disabilities have the same access to evidence-based methods in sexual violence prevention. A particular focus will be on ensuring healthy sexuality options, in addition to managing situations of risk.

Presenter: Robin J. Wilson, Ph.D., ABPP is a board-certified clinical psychologist who has worked in sexual violence prevention for more than 35 years. He has published and presented widely on criminal justice topics and is an Assistant Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioural Neurosciences at McMaster University in Hamilton, Ontario. Robin also maintains an international practice in clinical and consulting psychology based in Sarasota, Florida. His current interests center on ensuring safe transitions for clients of risk moving from institutional to community settings and maintaining responsive case management options for persons with intellectual and other developmental disabilities.

How to Attend:

The session will be offered virtually, via the Zoom © platform. To participate, you will need access to a computer, with a web camera and microphone that meets the Zoom system requirements.

Zoom Technology Requirements - <https://support.zoom.us/hc/en-us/articles/201362023-System-requirements-for-Windows-macOS-and-Linux>

To Register:

Seating is limited and will be offered on a first come, first served basis.

Use the following link on the MyODP website to register:

<https://www.myodp.org/course/view.php?id=1957>.

A Demographics Form will need to be completed before the registration link will become available.

For questions on registration, email: patraining@columbusorg.com.